

The Week in Society

"CHIC" SOCIETY.

Mrs. H. B. Wilson went to El Dorado yesterday to visit friends. Miss Bessie Means has gone to Lawrence to attend the Junior-Senior party. Mrs. W. E. Bailey entertained the College Hill Whist club last night at her home, 350 East Douglas avenue. Miss Nannie Mae Combs has returned home for a short visit with her parents. Mrs. F. A. Ameson entertained at dinner Sunday in honor of Mrs. Pitts of Wellington. Miss Daisy Woods went to Hutchinson Friday for a short visit with Mrs. Verne Finzer. Miss Belle Beachy has returned to Chicago after a visit with Mrs. D. C. Rounds of North Topeka avenue. Mrs. W. J. Milligan is visiting with Mrs. Nestor Moore, 721 North Topeka avenue. Miss Jean Thatcher gave a party Friday night at her home on St. Francis avenue. The evening was spent in cards. Mrs. A. H. Law and son Dee have returned from Phoenix, Arizona, where they have been spending the winter. Mrs. Henry Wilson entertained at cards at her home, 140 Park place. Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Throckmorton entertained in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miles of Kansas City, Thursday evening. A reception was given by the committee of the Reformed church for the old and new members. Light refreshments were served. Miss Mary Wallace, city librarian at Litchfield, Ill., is visiting Miss Lucy Stuckey at her home on St. Francis avenue. Miss Wallace is returning from a visit to New Mexico. The Tuesday Card club was entertained at the home of Mrs. J. W. Clemen, 124 North Emporia avenue. The prizes were won by Mrs. Kelly and Mrs. Buck. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Edwin Taft, 719 North Market street. The invitations are out for the wedding of Miss Ann Elizabeth Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Brown, and Mr. Delos Powell Woods, at the home of the bride's parents, 1104 North Lawrence avenue.

SUNDAY

AT HENDERSON'S. At the residence of her father, Cash Henderson, 325 South Emporia avenue, Miss Anita Henderson and her Sunday school classmates of Class No. 5 of the Reformed church, teacher Miss Bertha Southwell, gave a reception to Class No. 4, teacher Paul Brown, on Friday evening. Progressive lunch and picnic furnished an evening's enjoyment. After refreshment the young ladies furnished a program of education and music. Those present were: Misses Henrietta Hoesfeld, Ethel Minich, Mary Korbach, Clara Lawson, Rachel Massey, Mary Hummelwright, Barbara Franklin, Ion Henshaw, Marjorie Henshaw, Minnie Myers, Leora Basch, Fannie Milbourn, Vera Knoblauch, Minnie King, Ada Baldwin, Lena St. Denis, Barbara Henderson, Anita Henderson, Bertha Southwell and Ollie Warren; and Messrs. Earl Godwin, Roy Koles, Charles Hoesfeld, Everett Powell, John Parrott, Rufus St. Denis, Paul St. Denis, Basil Bliss, Cash Henderson, Jr., and Ray Franklin; also Mrs. John Knoblauch, Mrs. Cash Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bolte and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brown.

EASTER WEDDING AT FRIENDS.

At the close of the Easter service at Friends' university the congregation will witness a beautiful wedding ceremony, which united in marriage Mr. Clair A. Robb and Miss Lottie Paul of Wichita. At high noon, when the regular wedding closed, Miss Laura Slicker was conducted by an usher up to the long aisle to the piano and to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, the groom and Mr. Harry Hinkle, as best man, marched down the aisle to the altar where they were met by the bride party from the south aisle, led by Harry Hicks, usher, and little Gladys Sexton, flower girl. The bride followed leaning on the arm of her father, with Miss Kate Thompson, maid of honor and Miss Stanley bridesmaid. President Stanley performed a beautiful ring ceremony, taking the ring of diamonds and emeralds from amid the petals of a large Catalpa tree in the flower girl.

The bride was elaborately dressed in cream silk, crepe de chine over white tulle, with silver sequins. She wore a white picture hat and carried a large bouquet of white and pink flowers. The bride followed leaning on the arm of her father, with Miss Kate Thompson, maid of honor and Miss Stanley bridesmaid. President Stanley performed a beautiful ring ceremony, taking the ring of diamonds and emeralds from amid the petals of a large Catalpa tree in the flower girl.

Immediately after the ceremony the wedding party repaired to the Carver hotel where an elegant banquet was served to a large number of intimate friends and relatives in a private dining room. A few hours later the happy couple left over the Missouri Pacific for an extended trip in the east. Both bride and groom are highly accomplished young people. Both have been students of Friends' university and were members of the city. The bride having studied music at the Slicker conservatory. Both have made numerous friends who now take pleasure in their happiness and success in life.

MONDAY.

GAVE BIRTHDAY PARTY.

One of the pleasant events of the year, from the children's standpoint, was the birthday party given by Mrs. Nestor Moore, at her home 721 North Topeka avenue in honor of the fifth birthday of her son, Robert. The guests were summoned with this invitation: "Robert Moore with greetings most hearty. Invites you to attend his birthday party. From three to five the hours will be. Next Monday afternoon, come frolic with me."

EVERY WOMAN COVETS A

shapely, pretty figure, and

Manly, and they deplore the loss of their girlish forms

after marriage. The bearing

of children is often destructive to the mother's shapeliness.

All of this can be avoided,

however, by the use of Mother's Friend before baby comes, as this great liniment always prepares the body for the strain upon it, and preserves the symmetry of her form. Mother's Friend overcomes all the danger of child-birth, and carries the expectant mother safely through this critical period without pain. It is woman's greatest blessing.

Thousands gratefully tell of the benefit and relief derived from the use of this wonderful remedy. Sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Our little book, telling all about this liniment, will be sent free.

The Bradford Regulator Co., Atlanta, Ga.

Married Women

Every woman covets a

shapely, pretty figure, and

Manly, and they deplore the

loss of their girlish forms

after marriage. The bearing

of children is often destructive

THE AFTERNOON WAS SPENT PLAYING GAMES.

The table was decorated with apple blossoms. After lunch the guests departed, each one taking some little game as a souvenir of the occasion. Robert received a great many pretty presents. Mrs. Moore was assisted in entertaining the little ones by Misses Lillian Lewis, La Vita Kelly, Edith Sankey, Mary Matthews and Jauneta Hill. Mrs. D. Hanford, Mrs. John Kelly, Mrs. Ray Johnson, Frank Harris, Mrs. K. Nelson. Those present were: Francis Brown, Victor Rogers, Richard Warren, Helen Dyer, Margaret Dyer, Helen Johnson, H. T. Ends, Lenore Snyder, Regina Kelly, Wilbur Millison, Alice Pearce, York and Helen Trigg, Mary Kelly, Jessie Elenor Knorr, Noble Taylor, Russell McVior, Sidney Ashton, Fredrick Pratt, Ellis Lockwood, Marting, Katharine Ritchie, Jack Harsh, Tom Burns, Margaret Warhoff, Helen Wells, Jessie Burns, Lucile Van Arsdale, Marion Aley, Wilma Bush, Marion Stockley, Josephine Hull, Maxine Hendon, Clara Westworth, Nellie Margaret Carey, Charles Moffit, Gladys Warren, Margery and Dorothy Quigley, Della Kilsch, Marie Reiff, Wyoff Knuch, Ed. Welch, Eva Diamond, Margaret Coats, Dorothy Engle Hart, Madeline McKnight, Donald Trickle, Schuyler Jones, Ferdinand Lenox.

HYPATIA.

At the business meeting last Monday an amendment to section 2 of the constitution made it read as follows: "A woman desiring membership in Hypatia shall make application in writing and be vouched for by two members in good standing, and the application must be accompanied by one dollar as membership fee."

Mrs. H. made a very interesting response to roll call, on "Treason, what it is and how punished." Her response was really a historical sketch of treason as committed in this country citing the cases of our two traitors, Arnold and Burr. In Arnold's case it is said, as in the beginning, "The woman did it," as Mrs. Arnold is believed to have encouraged him in his infamous career.

Mrs. Helen Vincent's paper gave a graphic picture of social settlements as they are carried on by unselfish men and women in the slums of the big cities. Toyne hall and Hull house were fully described by Miss Stuckey, who always shows considerable mastery of her subject. Mrs. D. Richey addressed Hypatia on the "Free Kindergarten" with good results. Hypatia voted five dollars now and the ladies subscribed one dollar each individually.

The next will be an open meeting with American music as the subject. "American songs and their composers" was Mrs. McCoy.

TUESDAY

The Cold Water Whist club was entertained by Mrs. J. L. Dyer at her home, 24 North Emporia avenue in honor of Mrs. Frank Niles of Kansas City. The prizes were awarded to Mrs. A. H. Webb, Mrs. W. W. Pearce and Mrs. H. G. Rose. The guests were Mrs. Frank Niles, Mrs. B. T. Churchman, Mrs. Frank Wood, Mrs. Richardson, Mrs. C. O. Sim, Mrs. E. E. Beach, Mrs. Foster, Mrs. Y. H. Branch, Mrs. C. A. Masch, Mrs. E. Mayrill, Mrs. O. D. Kirk, Mrs. Veale Kirk, Mrs. W. E. Jett, Mrs. Sol Tuttle, Mrs. W. W. Pearce, Mrs. Walter Dyer, Mrs. W. B. Throckmorton, Mrs. W. G. Storch, Mrs. O. H. Bentley, Mrs. A. H. Webb, Mrs. Edwin Taft, and Mrs. H. G. Rose.

CHAUTAUQUANS ENTERTAIN.

The Assembly Chautauquans Circle entertained the Philomathean Circle Tuesday evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Maxwell, 97 North Market street. The Assembly Circle responded to roll call with verses, original and otherwise, on current events. These poetic attempts occasioned much merriment. The Philomatheans replied to their names with items of present interest, chiefly scientific.

Mr. John Stanley discussed the coal strike of 1902.

Miss Sara Norcross took up the New York City sculptors of the present day, and Mr. Cook reviewed very helpfully chapter 19 of the Industrial Revolution.

Miss Mable Aiken and Miss Gertrude Maxwell entertained the company with piano solos.

After the program Miss Kate Staley and Miss Norcross presided over the chatting dishes. The guests remained for a social hour after refreshments.

The joint meeting of the circles proved entertaining and profitable to both and all departed wondering why they had not met together before.

TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB.

The national history program of the Twentieth Century club, will be given in the Unitarian church, corner of Central and Topeka avenues Tuesday afternoon, April 19th at 2 o'clock. There will be no discussion of current events. Mrs. Lionel Trotter is the leader.

"Humaniating of Animals—a crossing from fact to fiction—Mrs. O. A. Keach, J. J. Audubon, the man who made classification of N. A. birds possible—Mrs. J. A. Erickson.

"An hour with the Birds," twenty-five of our native birds described, read by Mrs. Geo. S. Freeman.

Vocal music—Miss Mable Ladd. Linnaeus, the great Swede who founded our present system of Botanical Analysis—Miss Noble.

Some Familiar Plants in this Section, read by Mrs. Emma Moore.

Some forms of Bacteria in milk—Mrs. L. S. Trotter.

Industrial music—Miss Golda Evans. All birds and plants mentioned will be represented either by specimens or authoritatively colored plates. Souvenirs of the day will be given out. All visitors are welcome.

LADIES' ATHLETIC CLUB. A very delightful program was presented by the Ladies' Athletic club in their rooms over 523 North Main street. Several vocal solos were given by Mrs. Jett Campbell Stanley, accompanied by Miss Jessie L. Clark. Miss Marguerite Ellis gave a very pleasing piano solo.

Two classes under the direction of Mrs. Harriet Glasgow gave exhibitions of indoor athletic work. Miss Gertrude Becker of the Friends university gave two readings which were well received.

SURPRISED HIS WIFE. Mr. T. J. Van Arsdale gave his wife a complete surprise on Friday evening, that being their tenth wedding anniversary. Miss Bowman, entertained Mrs. Van Arsdale at 8 o'clock dinner and upon returning home about 8 o'clock she was greeted by the sound of tin pans, tin horns, etc., and sought relief in a handsome rocker Mr. V. had waiting for return. A lunch had been prepared consisting of ham sandwiches, chicken salad, nut sandwiches, pickles, olives, coffee, cheese, ice cream and cake. Mrs. Roy and Mrs. Russell assisted in serving.

Those present were Rev. A. A. Parker and wife, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Roy, Mr. and Mrs. Joe West, Mr. and Mrs. Ransom Brown, Misses Sallie Gish, Maud Bowman, Minnie Bowman, Cora Bowman, Mr. Bishop Owens, Mr. George McNeal, and Mrs. Russell.

WEDNESDAY

PATRIOTIC WORKERS.

The Patriotic Workers of W. R. C. No. 4 enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon last Wednesday at the cheerful home of Mrs. Leonard, on Biting avenue. As this name of the society implies, work was the first consideration, and making aprons was the specialty.

Then came the quilt drawings for which numbers had been sold some time ago. The holders of $5 and $10 (who did not happen to be present) were entitled to the quilts, bringing to mind, "There's luck in odd numbers."

Mrs. Leonard was assisted in entertaining by Mesdames Dill, Myers, Sheppard, Spencer and Lightner. Refreshments in the form of delicious cake and ice cream were served. Members of W. R. C. No. 4 present were: Mesdames Lee Hudson, Gray, Barnes, Boyce, Burritt, Groszlow, Clayton, Lightner, Dill, Murray, Buckner, Crum, Crocker, Snake, Bulkeley, Hammond, Little, Wendel, Drake, Ross, Jacoby, Caswell, McCullough, Myers, Brown, Whitcomb, Sheppard, Buckwater and Leonard. Visitors: Mrs. Nedron, Mrs. Chas. McLean, Mrs. Baby and Miss Dill, Comrades Sheppard, Barnes and Leonard also visited with the Workers, and their company was duly appreciated at what might otherwise have been called a "then convention."

SATURDAY

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE PARTY.

A delightful surprise party given to Norma Young by her parents and friends at her home 7 miles north of town last Saturday afternoon. The occasion being her 19th birthday. After recovering from her surprise, Norma became a pleasant and entertaining little hostess. The afternoon was spent in music and games. Refreshments consisting of oranges, bananas, and popcorn were served. Miss Norma received some pretty presents.

Those present were: Norma Young, Sarah Brooks, Paul Green, Roscoe Giles, Helen Duncan, Minnie Hendrick, Florence Mitchell, Blanch McKee, Lizzie Duffon, Grace Giles, Hazel Hill, Chloe Hendrick, Mabel McKee, Ross Hendrick, Izzy May Green, Miss Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Young.

SOUTH SIDE DELIVERS ENTERTAINMENT.

Mrs. Dillon entertained the South Side Delivers and a number of their friends at her home, 1106 South Topeka avenue, Tuesday afternoon.

Misses Shockey and Miller entertained the guests with music for a time. Then Mrs. Turner, the club president, in a very graceful and interesting way, called each lady to the floor, giving her a subject for a minute talk. As no one knew her subject previously, these impromptu talks occasioned considerable merriment.

Mrs. Carruthers and Mrs. Staker rendered "Brutus" and "Cassius" quarrel in a very pleasing and unique manner.

The ladies were then asked to look about them for slips of paper on which were written parts of quotations, the object being to put these words together to form entire quotations from Shakespeare's plays. Mrs. Horner received the prize.

A dainty lunch was then served and all went home declaring Mrs. Dillon a delightful hostess. Those present were Mesdames Horner, Carrothers, Copeland, Staker, Hart, Chase, Benbow, Underwood, Miller, Pettie, Wilson, Burrell, Martinbale, Deal, Hatfield, Layne, Wilbur, Goode, Davis, Allen, Minnick, Trochle, Taft, Bone, and Misses Miller and Schockey.

PRO-CATHEDRAL LADIES.

The monthly meeting of the Pro-Cathedral ladies was held at the home of Mrs. J. T. Warren, 312 North Indiana avenue. Mrs. Warren was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. W. S. Warren and Mrs. W. S. Busch. The afternoon was spent in playing whist. Two pictures were given as prizes, being won by Mrs. J. Revell and Mrs. E. J. Healy. The booby prize was won by Mrs. J. Sheehan. Light refreshments were served in the evening. There were about seventy-five ladies present and they were greatly pleased by the entertainment given them.

MARRIED IN COLORADO.

Mrs. A. S. Parks has received word of the marriage of her niece, Miss Jettie Mae Lacey, formerly of this city, but now of Manitou, Colo. Miss Lacey was married to Mr. Charles E. Foss of Colorado Springs. The wedding was a quiet affair and only the relatives and most intimate friends were present. Mrs. Foss is a graduate of Fairmount college and her husband was a student there a few years ago.

An orange weighing nine pounds and measuring twelve inches in diameter, has been grown. It is asserted, by F. Gerber, of Braam River, Koppa, South Africa, a pine peach and plums from Cape Colony have been sold in Cleveland within the last few weeks, and the fruit had the beauty of the best products of the California orchards.

Nine hundred gallons of water a day for every person was used in Sterling during the month of March. D. W. Blaine nor any of his family live in that town, either.

WASTING LIVES

Nothing wastes a woman's strength and vitality like suffering female troubles. Profuse menstruation wastes the life blood. Suppression of the function poisons it. Bearing down pains wreck the nervous system. Troubles of motherhood are often fatal.

A woman's life is beset with dangers. There are a thousand ways in which her health may be destroyed, but Wine of Cardui is an absolute cure for these ailments. It is the best menstrual regulator known to the science of medicine. It relieves the suffering of bearing down pains, drives out leucorrhoea and gives pure blood and strong nerves to women whose bodies have been enervated and tortured by hidden sickness.

WINE OF CARDUI

And, hundreds of thousands of invalids have been cured of these troubles in the privacy of their own homes. Yes, they have cured themselves with Wine of Cardui. This treatment is no experiment. Cures of 1,500,000 women put the Wine of Cardui treatment far beyond the experimental stage.

Is your wife wasting her life away suffering? You can take her a bottle of this medicine and she can cure herself right in her own home.

Will you secure a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist today, and give your wife the benefit of this cure that hundreds of thousands of other men's wives rejoice in?

OF THE YELLOW PERIL

Kakazro Akakura Declares Japan's Fate Is Apart from It

NO UNION WITH CHINA

Says It Is a Story Concocted by Russians.

Kakazro Akakura, in the New York Evening Post, says:

Nothing can be more gratifying to the Japanese than the spontaneous sympathy which America has shown Japan at this moment. Russians our recent admission into the comity of nations at the gracious instance of the United States and the apparent odds we have to face in the prestige of the monster power with which we are challenged to single combat, may at first have animated a chivalrous sentiment. But it is a great blessing to feel that this expression of good will is not emotional alone; that it is not the mere echo of romance, nor the selfish voice of trade. We take it to bespeak the abiding sense of and love for justice and human freedom, that elemental, deep-seated and most characteristic trait of the American conscience, which has ever aroused the sympathy of the American people. It is to us a precious proof that our contention for the territorial integrity of China and the open door for peace and commerce will meet with the sincere approval of unprejudiced and enlightened people all over the world. And it is this high moral sympathy which nerves our arm in the conflict. In our own words, "it purifies and frees the sword-conscience."

Yet we wonder and stand dismayed sometimes before the curious misconceptions of our real motives, which obtain in European countries, and here, also, in certain circles. It is true that American scholarship has been the foremost to elucidate our civilization, that American statesmen are conversant with the inner significance of our politics, that in the field of art America can boast of the finest collections of Japanese work outside of Japan. But to those who have not studied the mental history of the Japanese revival the attitude of the Island Empire must ever remain a paradox. To them it can be but the country of flowers and fanes, of dashing heroism and delicate taste, the strange borderland where quaint shadows meet each other in the twilight of the old and the new world. They are apt to forget that the same untiring spirit which creates the subtle beauty of the pottery of Satsuma guides us also in the thorough, extreme care we now bestow upon our war department. And our love for the cherry blossoms, which we cherish as the national emblem, is not only for its jeweled effluence, but for the freedom with which it gives itself to the winds in glorious self sacrifice.

Nothing is so improbable that it may not seem possible. Exaggeration is the country which fancy pays to the unknown. The so-called "yellow peril" was conceived because there existed no yellow peril and no reason for it. The notion that Japan, in case of victory, would marshal the hosts of China and hurl itself against Europe is as much too interesting in its absurdity for us of the East to even indulge in were it not that a dreadful incentive lay behind this "yellow peril" alarm. Perhaps it is not generally known that these words were first coined by Germans at the very time Germany was annexing the Shan-tung coast. With this startling and most significant debut in mind, we of the East are perfectly susceptible when Russia (who, Herbert has so recently announced herself in China and India as the only Oriental country of Europe suddenly takes up the cry.

The Great Wall of China, the only edifice on earth which could be seen from the moon, stands as a monumental protest against the possibility of the yellow peril. That ancient rampart, which stretched for seven hundred miles across the face of the Shan-tung coast, was built against foreign encroachment, but it has also marked the limit of the self-contained Chinese civilization. It is rarely that through the twenty-one centuries of its existence it has been made through its gates to characterize the deplorable tribes for the people of the East were always pacific. It was the fierce clansmen of the steppes outside who, on the contrary, broke through the wall and time after time succeeded in imposing their rule on China, forming the Wei, the Yuen, the Tsin and a host of minor dynasties, and the result was ever that, that after a few generations the intruders forgot their martial ardor, because the people among whom they lived—the great agricultural communities of the rich valleys of the Hoanghs and the Yangtsing—like those of the Ganges valleys, made the love of the soil and the consecration of labor hand in hand. Here from the earliest times, Confucian sage taught meekness, harmony, the homely and patriarchal virtues. Buddhism, which later fruited the Celestial mind, continued to enforce the restraint idea of self-control and self-restraint; and it is a fact peculiarly worthy of note that the legendary hero of the Chinese contains no tale of seafaring or crusade-like struggles, no echoes of distant conquests, no expeditions of Argonaut or Viking, no Trojan wars, Macedonian strivings or Roman conquests. The fierce spirit of the conquering Nomad has always been tamed, held captive and finally destroyed by the time-honored traditions of the Chinese, so that each dynasty of invaders became after a time powerless to resist the assaults of the new wave of invaders. When the dawn of history Korea was Japan's tributary. Indeed, our tradition pictures the first Korean king as the nephew of the sun-goddess from whom our emperors trace their lineage. Many were the expeditions sent to the peninsula to dispute suzerainty with the Chinese rulers. But with the introduction of Buddhism and Confucian polity Japan assumed a new role and entered into a scheme of continental self containment. Towards the eighth century, absorbed in the religious fervor of the period of which the colossal bronze of Nara is a lasting testimony, we allowed our last colony in Korea to fall unheeded. Eight centuries later our Napoleonic general, Great Kaiko, overran that country to avenge the insults offered to us by China, but the campaign ended shortly with his death. Our long history proves that the national conscience of Japan had no sympathy for foreign conquests. The founder of the last military dynasty, the Tokugawa Shogunate, not to resist a demand from the people in closing Japan to foreign intercourse, an isolation which was to last for no less than three hundred years. But with the opening of our ports four decades ago all conditions had to undergo a change. The last half century, continental commerce and the international displacement in Asia have created the necessity of considering Korea within the line of our national defense. For, not only is the protection of our economic interests at stake, but also the question of our very existence, should a hostile power occupy that peninsula of Korea.

The peaceful regime of her continental neighbors has influenced even the maritime instances of Japan. Since the dawn of history Korea was Japan's tributary. Indeed, our tradition pictures the first Korean king as the nephew of the sun-goddess from whom our emperors trace their lineage. Many were the expeditions sent to the peninsula to dispute suzerainty with the Chinese rulers. But with the introduction of Buddhism and Confucian polity Japan assumed a new role and entered into a scheme of continental self containment. Towards the eighth century, absorbed in the religious fervor of the period of which the colossal bronze of Nara is a lasting testimony, we allowed our last colony in Korea to fall unheeded. Eight centuries later our Napoleonic general, Great Kaiko, overran that country to avenge the insults offered to us by China, but the campaign ended shortly with his death. Our long history proves that the national conscience of Japan had no sympathy for foreign conquests. The founder of the last military dynasty, the Tokugawa Shogunate, not to resist a demand from the people in closing Japan to foreign intercourse, an isolation which was to last for no less than three hundred years. But with the opening of our ports four decades ago all conditions had to undergo a change. The last half century, continental commerce and the international displacement in Asia have created the necessity of considering Korea within the line of our national defense. For, not only is the protection of our economic interests at stake, but also the question of our very existence, should a hostile power occupy that peninsula of Korea.

the apex of which, across the narrow straits, points like a dagger at the very heart of Japan. It was to guard against this possibility that we fought China ten years ago. It is for the same reason we fight Russia today.

So far as this so-called "yellow peril" is concerned, it is known absolutely that for several hundred years Japan and China together have not attempted in even the slightest degree to prey upon their neighbors. With such firm traditional back of them, how can any one consider seriously the possibility of their attempting to do so in the future? The term "yellow peril" can, therefore, have no reasonable significance, save in the fargon of diplomacy. But a "peril" has appeared in the flesh, and it came from Russia, not from Japan or China. It was from the impudencies of Russia that in ancient times the "Austrian hosts, the Goths and Vandals descended upon Europe, and today the tower of the Russian soldiery are the Siberian "Cossacks" and Tartars, bold descendants of Genghis and dread Amerasia. Japan has seen the Russian peril grow before her, threatening not only her trade and the peaceful development of her civilization, but her national existence until, in order to protect herself, this war.

It is a great blessing to us all to feel that America clearly realizes that in fighting Russia we are also fighting the battle of civilization.

the apex of which, across the narrow straits, points like a dagger at the very heart of Japan. It was to guard against this possibility that we fought China ten years ago. It is for the same reason we fight Russia today.

So far as this so-called "yellow peril" is concerned, it is known absolutely that for several hundred years Japan and China together have not attempted in even the slightest degree to prey upon their neighbors. With such firm traditional back of them, how can any one consider seriously the possibility of their attempting to do so in the future? The term "yellow peril" can, therefore, have no reasonable significance, save in the fargon of diplomacy. But a "peril" has

Nature Intended What Was Right.

GREAT ACHIEVEMENTS.

NATURE provides everything necessary for human existence.

The more we penetrate the secrets of nature the more we find to wonder at and to convince us that the closer we live to the laws of nature the healthier are our lives. We can live long lives if we keep the body in health, strong to resist the attack of disease.

Practice preventive medicine, in keeping the blood pure and the principal organs active. Do not repose in the false idea that some tonic, made largely of alcohol, will give you strength; it is only a false strength at best and means the shrinking up of the red blood corpuscles. Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., never believed in a tonic or blood medicine made with alcohol, so he set about to find a substitute that would increase the red blood corpuscles and tone up and strengthen the human system. This he found in certain roots, herbs and barks, which he made into an alternative extract called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is a tonic and blood-maker without a particle of alcohol or narcotic contained in it. Nervous exhaustion, when the slightest exertion

How Food Should Be Cooked

The loss of nutritious properties of meats cooked on a coal range is thirty per cent. Cooking by Gas preserves the natural juices by quickly hardening the outside, thus retaining the most palatable and nourishing qualities of the food.

Any experienced cook will tell you this is a fact.

Why cook on a coal range with all its labor, dirt, ashes, soot, smoke and wastefulness, when the Modern Gas Range with all its conveniences, an ideal cooking equipment, is offered by us at cost, $13.00 or $15.00, set up in your kitchen ready for use.

Gas Co. Phone 186

the apex of which, across the narrow straits, points like a dagger at the very heart of Japan. It was to guard against this possibility that we fought China ten years ago. It is for the same reason we fight Russia today.

So far as this so-called "yellow peril" is concerned, it is known absolutely that for several hundred years Japan and China together have not attempted in even the slightest degree to prey upon their neighbors. With such firm traditional back of them, how can any one consider seriously the possibility of their attempting to do so in the future? The term "yellow peril" can, therefore, have no reasonable significance, save in the fargon of diplomacy. But a "peril" has appeared in the flesh, and it came from Russia, not from Japan or China. It was from the impudencies of Russia that in ancient times the "Austrian hosts, the Goths and Vandals descended upon Europe, and today the tower of the Russian soldiery are the Siberian "Cossacks" and Tartars, bold descendants of Genghis and dread Amerasia. Japan has seen the Russian peril grow before her, threatening not only her trade and the peaceful development of her civilization, but her national existence until, in order to protect herself, this war.

It is a great blessing to us all to feel that America clearly realizes that in fighting Russia we are also fighting the battle of civilization.

tires one, sleeplessness, pimples, boils, or colds are the warning signals that the blood is not in a healthy state. With a body that has been weakened by an attack of Typhoid, Grippe or Pneumonia, nothing will put on healthy flesh so fast as this tonic alternative of Dr.